

Petipoint, no. W410

The Petipoint has more character than it can handle. All the streamlined elements are there in chrome and plastic, with elements of Art Deco in the fins and the handle, as well as organic elements in the tail and fins. It's audacious and succeeds on its own terms, but falls short of having the elegance of a streamlined object.

